PROFILE

Allison grew up in Rockport, Texas which is a suburb just outside the Corpus Christi area. She attended Texas State University majoring in Human Development and Family studies. Allison is not swayed by any resistance, instead utilizes her time and maximizes her potential with laser focus while tapping into her drive to achieve her life goals. She is dedicated to her passions of starting a faith based Drug recovery center while providing resources to families who have a loved one in addiction. She stands out as a leader who is able motivate and inspire others to work in a united fashion in leadership roles. Allison wants to continue her time in ministry by creating and developing activities as well as leading in mentoring programs.
